MAKERS OF HISTORY IN TIME OF PEACE

Soldiers and statesmen have reshaped maps and fashioned nations, in time of war,—but The Killies Band have accomplished the seemingly impossible, in time of peace.

Mexico, with its unknown customs and strange ways, has been the unknown land of terrors for every American or foreign band which considered invading it. Though they all announced their intention of making the tour yet each and all abandoned the attempt.

It remained for the conquering Killies to lead, where as yet others have not dared to follow. The doughty Sons of Canada boldly turned their faces southward at the Texas border. Their giant Drum Major led them. The terror-stricken bagpipes played and Mexico capitulated. In the most gracious terms of surrender, the Mexican Government donated for the use of the band all the handsome and spacious Government-endowed theaters of the Ancient Republic, and so well were Killies received, and to such an astonishing success did their triumph grow, that a second year witnessed a second triumphal return and the way is now open for other bands to follow.

The Killies will give two concerts in the Opera House Friday afternoon and evening.

WHY THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES BEER

Many people are inclined to think that the doctor prescribes beer instead of malt tonic because he wants it for the bracing effect of the alcohol. Following this line of reasoning, they argue that what is good as a stimulant is harmful as a beverage.

This would be true enough, but for two things: In the first place, the alcohol in beer, never more than four percent, and in the case of the local brew, less than three percent, is not enough to produce such a stimulating effect. If that were what the doctor wanted, he would give the patient brandy.

In the second place, the virtue of beer as a tonic lies in the malted barley and the hop extract, and in the fact that it is taken in sufficient quantities to thoroughly flush the system of waste matter. The doctor prescribes beer because it is a food as well as a tonic.

LOUISIANA HAS CRACK GUNNERS

O. D. Helmer, gun pointer, first class, who is now here on the Louisiana, won first honors, together with Stamps, another of this same class, in the recent target practice of the Fleet at Magdalena Bay. This is the fourth time he has received medals for his accurate work with the big guns. The first time was while he was serving under Captain Emory, now Admiral Emory, on the Louisiana, commanding the third division. Helmer is well known all through the Fleet for the prizes he has annexed in target work.

One prisoner was sentenced at St. Petersburg, Russia, to three years' imprisonment and fourteen others to from six months to one year in prison for participating in the massacre at Ballistock, Russia, in 1905.
